BACKGROUND

The mission of the Wayne County Foundation is to foster and encourage private philanthropic giving, enhance the spirit of community, and improve the quality of life in the Wayne County, Indiana, area now and for future generations. To achieve these goals, the Foundation awards distributions from discretionary and field-of-interest funds in accordance with donors’ wishes and its understanding of the needs and opportunities in the community at any given time. This policy statement applies to those grants awarded through the Foundation’s “traditional” grantmaking cycles, currently administered annually.

The Foundation views the grants it makes as investments in our community. These policies and procedures are intended to promote fair and nondiscriminatory processes; support well-informed decision-making; and ensure the highest and best use of the limited resources available. At the same time, the Foundation hopes to inspire creative approaches to moving our community forward and encourage a wide range of applications and proposals representing the many different facets of our community.

ELIGIBILITY

Generally speaking, grants can only be made to qualified charitable organizations operating in the public interest and providing benefit to the citizens of Wayne County, Indiana. Other groups and government entities may also qualify, provided they are operating very broadly in the public interest and/or are aligned with a qualified charity that has agreed to serve as a fiscal sponsor. No grants will be made that return private benefit to any individual or group of individuals that is disproportionate to the benefit provided to the community; support illegal activity; or threaten the Foundation’s qualified charity status. The programs or initiatives in question must be essentially charitable in nature.

APPLICATION AND REVIEW PROCESS

A traditional grant cycle application process has the following components:

Announcement
The Foundation will release information on its website (waynecountyfoundation.org) and to area media announcing information about the upcoming cycle. This will include all related deadlines, the expected decision date, and the expected amount of Foundation-managed dollars that will be available during the cycle. The Foundation may also announce dates of grant-writing workshops and information sessions. Interested organizations are strongly encouraged to send representatives to one of these meetings before submitting an application. Or meet directly with the Program Officer.

Pre-Application Materials
For any organization planning to submit an application, the Foundation requires the pre-application questions be completed through the online application system by the deadline announced. These questions will include a summary description of the project or program to be funded; the Funding Category and field-of-interest category (if any) that most closely aligns with the proposed project or program and a brief budget narrative indicating the intended use of Foundation funds. Evidence of the approval by one of the applying organization’s Board officers will also be requested at this time.
